Casa Vida

a place of discipleship, life skills training, and emotional healing for women

The building is going up! The final project will have a large basement for study center and workshops, the main floor with offices, kitchen, and dining area, and the second floor will be dorm space and bathrooms.

This will be a home with two purposes, a place of transition for girls aging out of programs for abused girls and a place of refuge and life transformation for women struggling with addictions. This has been a large building project and we have seen amazing progress.

Pray with us as we train leaders to work and staff this program. We are grateful for our partnership with the Pentecostal Church of God and our missionary friends the Meltons. This is becoming a great collaborative work. Thank you for your prayers and support!

Living Free/Vida Libre … training and discipleship

We continue to train and develop leaders and pastors to disciple people dealing with addictions and everyday struggles. It is so exciting to see people step out and be used to help others overcome small and big life challenges as they grow in their walk with the Lord.

Living Free began an online training course and we are developing the Spanish version. The online platform will allow us to help train leaders and pastors in many more countries.

We believe in training and providing access to tools that help people fulfill their call and mission to disciple others.

Living Free/Vida Libre Acatenango

Recycling the trash on the outside and the inside

We serve a God who saw the value in us while we were unworthy. Pastor Oto uses his knowledge in recycling, turning trash into resources, to provide work and discipleship for young men who are battling addictions and unhealthy lives. Pray with us as we partner with Pastor Oto to provide programming that meets the physical, emotional, social, and spiritual needs of these young men. We hope to be able to work with him to build a Vida Libre/Living Free center. This will be a place to work and learn recycling, a church for the community and the young men and their families, as well as a future site for a residential Teen Challenge program for men.
